

Photo Session and Package Information

Thank you for considering me for your upcoming photo shoot! This information will help you understand and answer any questions with regard to how my pricing works.

What is an image? An image is the final, edited pose you have chosen from the numerous photos taken during your shoot. An image is far more than a snapshot; it consists of my expertise in posing, coaching, creativity, and editing. Why editing? It is inevitable in any given image there will be stray hairs, a background distraction, unwanted blemishes, color corrections, etc. The reality is that editing is time consuming, and something I take very seriously. I want you to shine!

An image does NOT mean a print. My prints, which are high quality and very competitively priced, are priced separately. Naturally, I hope you purchase prints from me, because the quality is exceptional and they are simply beautiful. However, regardless of whether or not you purchase your prints from me, I still give you full rights to print your images and use them in any manner you choose once you download your final, edited images from my website.

The price of your photo shoot depends on two major components: 1) how many images you wish to purchase, and 2) how many people are in the shoot. For each image, we will shoot with a different background and with you in a different outfit. For each image, plan on spending at most about a half hour. For group photo shoots, I recommend a single outfit for the entire shoot to eliminate coordination issues, etc.

Shortly after your photo shoot is over, I will notify you when your unedited photos are available on my website for you to view. You will choose your favorite images totaling the number you purchased, which I will then edit. If you make your image selections within two weeks after your Photo Shoot, I will include at no charge an additional variation (B/W, Sepia, etc.) of one of your edited images of your choice. When my editing process is complete, I will then put your final, edited images in a private album for you to download and use as you wish. See "Step 3 – Purchase Prints and/or Download Edited Images" below to understand the rates for downloading the images.

Again, thank you! I will coach you every step of the way during the shoot, and I promise you a very memorable and enjoyable experience, from start to finish!
